This movement has proved unsuccessful It aimed merely to capture a Russian position, but whether it was intended to mask activity at some other point along the front has not yet developed opinion in military circles seems to be that no great movement is likely to transpire before the fate of Port Arthur is decided. At the same time it s recalled here that Gen. Kuropatkin's great aggressive movement of last month was in full swing a week before the outside world realized what was occurring.

DRUNKEN RUSSIAN SAILORS.

Beat, Bruise and Murder Citizens of the Island of Crete. Canea, Island of Crete, Nov. 21 .-

Disgraceful scenes transpired yesterday, when several groups of officers and men of the vessels belonging to the Baltic fleet, in this port, left various saloons and paraded the streets. The Russians were evidently heavily intoxicated. Brandishing their swords and other weapons, they made a wild rush at the peaceable passerby.

At least five of these were murdered by the drunken Russians, many others wounded and a large number cuffed and beaten. The brawls continued late into the night. Under cover of darkness the drunken sailors grew wilder still and their shouts and loud talk scared most people into their houses. The streets which the Russians chose to make their stamping grounds became practically deserted by the residents. It is reported that at least forty of the
